Davis Graham & Stubbs Attorney Dean Miller to Serve as Moderator, Featured Speaker at Steamboat CLE Conference

Denver, Colorado – June 3, 2007 – Davis Graham & Stubbs environmental attorney, Dean Miller, will serve as moderator and be a featured speaker at the Steamboat CLE Conference, Friday and Saturday, June 22-23, at Colorado's Sheraton Steamboat Resort. The two-day, state-wide conference for attorneys, energy industry executives, farmers, ranchers, governmental officials, and utility professionals, is co-sponsored by the Ag & Rural Law, Water Law, Environmental Law, and Natural Resources & Energy Law Sections of the Colorado Bar Association, and CBA-CLE.

Mr. Miller is on the 2007 conference Planning Committee, and will serve as moderator of the conference's general session on Friday, June 22. He also will be one of the presenters on the topic of "Environmental Due Diligence In Oil and Gas Transactions." Currently, Mr. Miller, is the Chair of the CBA Environmental Law Section, and is a frequent speaker on environmental issues. His practice focuses on environmental law, including litigation and regulatory compliance matters involving many aspects of environmental regulation, such as soil and ground water contamination, indoor-air vapor intrusion, asbestos, and other environmental concerns. Mr. Miller represents clients in CERCLA cost-recovery and contribution litigation, toxic-tort, and insurance litigation, as well as complex commercial litigation and RCRA regulatory-compliance matters.

The Steamboat CLE Conference will feature the 16th Annual Ag & Rural Law Roundup, 4th Annual Water Law Conference, 4th Annual Environmental Law Conference, and the Natural Resources & Energy Law Conference. Conference topics include: energy operations, oil and gas property acquisitions, year-round water supply creation, agricultural financing, case law and legislative updates for water law, environmental issues affecting the energy business, selling agricultural properties, oil shale, livestock law, coalbed methane, Roan Plateau development, and the new ethics rules.
